Collaboration with ARSG.DOCX

In going through my emails, I found this one related to ARSG meetings. I have shared the attached list of meeting summaries and trip notes with others, but I'm not sure I've sent them to you.

During presentation to the ARSG this year in May 27, 2015, we used a detailed presentation regarding the Red and Bonita mine bulkhead plans. That presentation is on the Red and Bonita Mine site Website.

As for presentations last year after the initial investigation of the GK mine adit, there was not likely a power pt but I did brief the group. We had only a few photos that are in the record.

I explained the operational plan for GK during our presentation at the ARSG meeting in May. In addition, I participated in an ARSG sponsored tour on Saturday, June 27, 2015 with members of the public, Durango Herald, Trout Unl, SCG, 2 of the ARSG Coordinators – total approximately 20 plus people. I discussed the plan again to open the GK mine and our basic approach to lower the water impounded just as we did for the Red and Bonita Mine several years ago, and I explained how it coincided with the work at the Red and Bonita for 2015.

Did you have any power point from the last year on Gold King?

A few other items we discussed in the call:

Meeting summaries at which the ARSG requested EPA's involvement. Whether Steve Way used a PowerPoint last year in advance of beginning the work to describe the work. If so can a copy of that be found.

Thanks all for organizing the events. I got a lot of it.

Here's what I have as followup items:

History of use/closure of each of the mines

1st day press release

Q and A on change of spill estimate

Do we have a q and a on why no satellite phone at work site?

Hi Mathy,

It was nice to see you yesterday – and hope you found your visit productive.

David Ostrander and I are following up on the items you mentioned on the ride from the mine to the airport and are planning to send you a package tomorrow.

One of the things you raised was about historical mine issues – and we wanted to clarify what you are looking for, so if you could clarify for us that would be great.

Also, if you think of other things you would find useful as you prepare for Wednesday, please let us know and we are happy to assist.

Thanks
